Color Confidence

Choosing colors is a big part of our daily lives whether you love it or if you find it terribly stressful! From selecting colors to paint our walls (both home and office), to accent pillows, to our own wardrobe, refreshing our knowledge of color theory basics will give you confidence to make color decisions. Learn the basic science behind why some colors look so good together, how to easily assemble a color palette for your next project along with interior color trend forecasts for 2018.

Virginia Weida Designs LLC is a women-owned commercial interior design company based in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. A Certified Interior Designer, Certified Facility Manager, and LEED Accredited Professional, Virginia Weida is quick to credit her educational experience at Cornell University with providing the tools for success in the Design and Facilities Management fields. She started her own consulting practice in June 2006 and has over 25 years of interior design experience. Virginia has also been an adjunct professor for interior design education at La Roche College and Chatham University, and can speak on many design-related topics. In addition to her professional activities, she volunteers her time for local civic and charitable organizations and is currently serving as President of the Brentwood Baldwin Whitehall Chamber of Commerce.
